

COMPUTERS TODAY

So, what is inside of a computer? Use the web and research exactly what goes inside of a computer. What are the components (parts)? List as many parts as you can find, and write down a brief explanation of what each part does. Then research all the different operating systems. List them and their different versions on the Operating Systems worksheet. Use this worksheet for notes. You may use the back if necessary.

